The Department of Nursing and Department of Medical Oncology of Tata Memorial Hospital affiliated with SNDT University, (Continuing Adult Education Department) are happy to announce the Commencement of 'One month certificate Course in Long Term Central Venous Access Devices (CVAD)'. Chemotherapy is one of the most important modalities of cancer treatment of Hematological malignancies and solid-tumors. Central Venous Access Device is a safe and effective route for patients who require long duration of venous access. Oncology nurses need to develop high degree of skills in inserting, maintaining and managing the CVAD to provide comprehensive care to patients. Preference will be given to sponsored candidates.
