Description

Dear All,

The fifth International Collaboration for Research methods Development in Oncology (CReDO) workshop is a six-day oncology research protocol development workshop organized by the Tata Memorial Centre, Mumbai and the National Cancer Grid of India (a network of 177 cancer centres across India). The workshop will be held from 2nd to 7th March 2020 at Lonavla, near Mumbai, India.

The objective of this workshop is to train researchers in oncology in various aspects of clinical trial design and to help them to develop a research idea into a structured protocol. Participation is open to researchers with training in surgical, medical or radiation oncology or any branch related to oncology. Preference will be given to early and middle-level researchers working in an academic setting who can demonstrate commitment to continuing research in oncology.

The CReDO workshop is an excellent and unique opportunity for faculty and trainees to get a very high level of training in clinical research methods. There are only three such workshops (besides CReDO) worldwide (in the US, Europe and Australia), and CReDO provides future researchers with an opportunity to be trained and interact directly with an exceptionally high quality faculty who have led some of the most cutting edge cancer research globally.

Applications for the workshop are now open and the last date for applications is 15th September 2019.

Please find attached the workshop e-brochure. Further details about the workshop are available on our website <https://tmc.gov.in/credo/>
