

IN BRIEF*Nat'l Cancer Grid widens its reach

Mumbai: The National Cancer Grid (NCG), a network of cancer centres and research institutes, now covers 108 cancer treatment hospitals and institutes in India. Tata Trusts announced the development on Wednesday. The NCG was launched in 2012, and now covers 60 per cent of cancer treatment infrastructure. Its primary mandate is uniform standards of cancer care across India by adopting evidence-based management guidelines, which are implemented across these centres.